

Bring the World Into Your Classroom or School

Connect with Returned Peace Corps Volunteers

The FCPS World Languages Global Education initiative offers an exciting opportunity to connect your students with experienced members of our local community—Returned Peace Corps Volunteers (RPCVs).

Returned Peace Corps Volunteers Offer

- Volunteer appearances at heritage and international nights
- Guest classroom presentations aligned to curriculum
- Cultural artifacts for hands-on learning and show & tell
- Real-world use of foreign languages
- First-hand global volunteer and professional experiences

Connect with your curriculum

Social Studies

While studying the Songhai and Ashanti empires, invite a Returned Peace Corps Volunteer who served in West Africa to share adinkra symbols, mud cloth, and Kente cloth or allow students to try on traditional clothing and explore musical instruments.

Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

Returned Peace Corps Volunteers can explain how the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals connect to everyday life in the countries where they served, bringing global goals into local context.

World Languages

Volunteers share how they learned Spanish in school, used it daily during Peace Corps service, and how language skills opened doors to meaningful careers and global opportunities.

And much more!

Why Invite a Returned Peace Corps Volunteer?

- Authentic global perspectives
- High student engagement and curiosity
- Strong alignment with global citizenship and career readiness

Ready to Connect?

Contact a Returned Peace Corps Volunteer directly using our current list of RPCV presenters or let us know how we can assist reaching out to Edward Osborne, World Languages Global Education Specialist at esosborne@fcps.edu.