TESTING NOTIFICATION AND REPORTING OPT-OUT FORM
Predictive Assessment Pilot Program

Dear Parent/Guardian,

Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS) has chosen your child's school to take part in a predictive assessment pilot program for reading and/or math this year. The goal of this program is to help students master grade-level standards. All students who will be taking the SOL test this spring are included in this project for the participating pilot schools and courses.

The pilot uses short assessments to help teachers understand where your child is strong and where they may need extra help. Results will give your child's teacher a personalized roadmap for support. This will build student confidence as they work toward grade-level skills.

What this means for your child:

- Students will take 6-10 short, predictive tests this year, about one every two or three weeks.
- Tests are short. Reading tests have only 2 short passages with 5 questions each. Math tests have only 10 questions.
- Each test lasts no more than 20 minutes.
- These tests replace other required systemwide common assessments, so your child's total testing time will not increase.
- Students will take the tests in Performance Matters, the same system used for systemwide common assessments in other subjects.
- Classroom accommodations are available when needed.

As part of this pilot, FCPS will be working with a vendor that uses artificial intelligence (AI) to analyze data to help educators identify current and previous learning standards where students may need additional support and to provide instructional insights based on the Standards of Learning. This is complex work in which AI accelerates the ability of educators to make instructional decisions.

Students and staff will not access or interact with this AI tool. It is used only by the vendor to create reports for staff to support instructional planning and decision-making. AI analysis is never used as the sole basis for decisions. Teachers and school staff continue to make all instructional and educational decisions using their professional judgment and multiple sources of information.

FCPS has a data privacy agreement in place with the vendor. Under this agreement, student information is not used to train commercial AI systems or improve AI products for other organizations. FCPS never uses AI-generated information as the basis for decisions about special education, gifted services, student discipline, grade promotion, retention, or graduation.

If you have questions about this pilot, please contact the central support team at PredictiveAssessmentPilot@fcps.edu. If you do not want your child's test results to be included in teacher reports developed using AI analysis, please complete the opt-out form below and return to your school principal by September 18, 2026.

_____*No, I do NOT want my child's test data to be included in teacher reports developed with AI. I understand that this decision does not change the expectation that my child will participate in pilot assessments.
