

Can You Communicate in a Language Other Than English?

Earn Up to 3 High School Credits!

FCPS celebrates your multilingual literacy. If you are fluent in a language other than English, you can take the World Languages Credit by Exam (WLCBE) to earn high school credits toward graduation and state recognition.

Why Take the Exam?

- Students who take the exam may earn up to three passing world language credits for levels one, two, and/or three for the language of the exam.
- WLCBE credits count toward the world languages requirements for the Advanced Studies Diploma.
- The assessment used in FCPS is also an approved assessment for awarding the Virginia Department of Education's (VDOE) Seal of Biliteracy.

Who is Eligible for the Exam?

- This exam is designed for students in Grades 7 & 8 who possess well-developed literacy in their language.
- Students may participate in the exam a maximum of two times per language across your middle and high school career (limit of once per school year).

Registration, Testing Date, & Location:

- The WLCBE will be offered at your school during the school day.
- See your counselor to register and for more information starting September 8th.
