

In partnership with the American Probation and Parole Association (APPA), the Bureau of Justice Assistance is pleased to announce its hosting of the Washington Tribal Intergovernmental Reentry Workshop (TIRW). The Washington TIRW will take place from May 31st to June 2nd.

This TIRW will be specific to Washington state-based tribes.

This TIRW is designed to provide participants with the tools to develop effective reentry plans based on sharing operational, organizational, and culture-based concepts and processes that identify critical services and interventions needed to reduce recidivism and victimization within Washington state.
