

Advocate for Juvenile Justice Reform

Your story has power, use your voice!

We are looking for a young person who has experienced the juvenile justice system to help shape a better future.

What's the WA-PCJJ?

The Partnership Council on Juvenile Justice is a statewide council that brings young people, system leaders, and community members together to advocate for change in Washington's Juvenile Justice system.

WHAT WE DO

Advise the Governor

Speak directly to the Governor's office and help fix a broken system.

Make recommendations

Share your perspective on important issues and connect with other advocates.

Share your voice

Develop your leadership skills, share your story, and get paid doing it!

JOIN THE PARTNERSHIP COUNCIL ON JUVENILE JUSTICE

Ready to join? Apply to be a Youth Member on the Council- appointed by the Governor!

- 4 meetings per year.
- Paid for your time & travel.
- Connect with community advocates and help create real change!

For more info
contact:

360-522-2320

jenny.young@dcyf.wa.gov

Apply here!