

STATE of WISCONSIN

OFFICE of the GOVERNOR

Proclamation

WHEREAS; slavery was a legal institution that served as a tool of oppression and exploitation in the U.S. for nearly 250 years, leading to significant racial disparities in wealth, status, and capital; and

WHEREAS; while the Emancipation Proclamation was issued by President Abraham Lincoln on January 1, 1863, for more than two years after, slavery continued in Texas due to a lack of enforcement of the 1863 proclamation in the westernmost Confederate state; and

WHEREAS; on June 19, 1865, Major General Gordon Granger arrived in Galveston, Texas, to declare the end of slavery, freeing the more than 250,000 people that had continued to be enslaved there; and

WHEREAS; since 1865, June 19 has become known as Juneteenth and is one of the oldest and most popular annual commemorations of the true end of slavery in the U.S.; and

WHEREAS; with the signing of the Juneteenth National Independence Day Act in 2021, Juneteenth became an official federal public holiday in the U.S.; and

WHEREAS; in 2009, Wisconsin became the 32nd state to formally recognize Juneteenth, although legislation to recognize the day in Wisconsin was first introduced by State Senator Spencer Coggs and State Representative Marcia Coggs in 1987; and

WHEREAS; on June 19, 2020, the Juneteenth Flag was raised over the Wisconsin State Capitol building for the first time in state history, and this year, the state will celebrate Juneteenth by raising the Juneteenth Flag over the Wisconsin State Capitol for the fifth year in a row; and

WHEREAS; the state reaffirms its commitment to the work that still must be done to build a more just and more equitable state for everyone; and

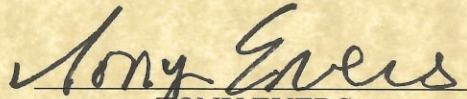

WHEREAS; Wisconsinites are encouraged to celebrate the end of one of the country's most shameful institutions, reflect on the nation's collective past and how it informs the systems of oppression that persist today, acknowledge the work that is necessary to address its lasting impact, and to move forward together toward a brighter, stronger future for every kid, family, and community;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Tony Evers, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby proclaim June 19, 2024, as

JUNETEENTH

throughout the State of Wisconsin, and I commend this observance to all our state's residents.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the Capitol in the City of Madison this 4th day of June 2024.

TONY EVERS
GOVERNOR

By the Governor:
